READING

This week we read a play about Johnny Appleseed. We work on several different types of genres (types of stories) during reading – this includes plays.

MATH

Learning how to add two-digit numbers is never easy. We are slowly working on the process of using the partial-sums algorithm.

PILGRIMS AND NUTRITION

Mrs. Bartell and I have started our new science and social studies units. Mrs. Bartell is teaching the students nutrition while I cover the Pilgrims.

Thank you so much for attending conferences. It makes my heart warm to see what caring parents we have!
